Brand Identity Design

Identify Guidelines

Introduction

This document explains how to correctly use the Octo Media Group visual identity. Our logo, colors, and typography reflect the brand's values of creativity, innovation, and digital storytelling.

Identify Guidelines Logo Lockups

The Octo Media Group logo is available in primary and secondary versions to ensure flexibility across applications.

Primary Logo

The full gradient logo on black is the preferred version, showcasing the brand's modern and digital-first identity.

Secondary Logos

Simplified variations (single-color, white, or flat purple) are designed for cases where the primary logo is not suitable. These ensure consistency across print, digital, and social media.

Always use the provided artwork files. Do not alter, stretch, or recreate the logo in any form.

Secondary Typeface: Aviano Sans Regular

Questrial Regular is our secondary typeface. It is clean, geometric, and highly legible, making it ideal for supporting text such as captions, product descriptions, digital content, and smaller print applications.

Use Questrial when Montserrat is not available or when a lighter, minimal style is required. It pairs seamlessly with Montserrat to keep the brand identity consistent, modern, and easy to read.

Identify Guidelines

ClearSpace

To ensure maximum impact and legibility, the Octo Media Group logo must always be surrounded by sufficient clear space. This prevents other elements from distracting or interfering with the logo.

Minimum Clear Space: Defined as 30 pixels (px) on all sides.

No text, graphics, or design elements should enter this area.

Identify Guidelines

Incorrect Usage

Maintaining the integrity of the Octo Media Group logo is essential. Please avoid these common mis-uses. Only use approved colors, styles, and formats to keep the brand consistent and recognizable.

Logo Variations

To stay flexible across different applications, the Octo Media Group logo comes in three versions:

Full Color – The gradient purple logo, our primary version, preferred for most uses.

Silhouette – A solid, single-color version for high contrast needs or limited printing.

Monoline – An outline version for subtle, minimal applications or textured backgrounds.

Always use the correct version to keep the brand clear, consistent, and recognizable.
